
BINNINGTONS AND CORONAVIRUS

The rapid spread of the Coronavirus over the past few weeks has resulted in significant changes in our daily lives. The news changes on a daily basis, but at this stage it seems that our focus at present should be on slowing down the spread of the virus to reduce the risk of overwhelming our health services, i.e. “flattening the curve”.

This has also impacted significantly on our working lives, and we at Binningtons have adopted the following general principles.

1. We will be working mainly from home, and our office landline in Cape Town, 021 685 0819, may not be answered. Clients are welcome to contact us by email or cellphone, as follows:
Chris Binnington – chris@binningtons.co.za, 082 807 4053
David Jamieson – david@binningtons.co.za, 084 704 3622
Mark Hamilton – markh@binningtons.co.za, 083 292 2273.
2. Our office manager, Kim Jones, will also be working mainly from home, and may not be able to respond to general and administrative queries immediately. She may be contacted on kim@binningtons.co.za, or 083 899 5865.
3. Courier deliveries should be made directly to an address to be confirmed with the appropriate person, using the contact details above.
4. Personal contact will be avoided as far as possible. This means that no meetings will be held at our offices in Cape Town or Johannesburg unless absolutely essential.
5. We will make maximum use of technology such as teleconferencing, Skype, Facetime or Zoom. This will also apply to adjudication and arbitration hearings, which will be conducted without personal attendance of participants, unless considered absolutely necessary.

We trust that the above steps will assist in slowing down the spread of the coronavirus, and that you and your staff and families will remain healthy and safe.

Yours faithfully,

David Jamieson CEng MICE BSc(CivEng) FAARB
